

The Linden Times

A bi-weekly newsletter for the members & friends of the Calvert County Historical Society – March 26, 2020

To improve communications, enhance your membership and keep everyone informed of great upcoming events and happenings at your Calvert County Historical Society, we are initiating a bi-weekly one to two page communication called The Linden Times. The Linden Times will feature Calvert anecdotes, local and regional history, a calendar of upcoming events and on occasion, a feature story. Every other week, The Linden Times will be broadcast via email and posted to the website for your reading pleasure. The Times will be an informative up-to-date addition to our quarterly Linden Newsletter. We hope you will like this new addition to CCHS's programming and effort to improved communications.

Unfortunately and in the meanwhile, Calvert County Historical Society is closed to members and visitors until we receive word or guidance from Federal, State and County officials that it is safe to reopen our doors. We know these are troubling times but hope that through proper cautions and common sense we will overcome this contagious virus and return to normal. By the way, we are 'virtually here' during our typical operating hours each week, to help you with your historical inquiries, assist in research and to attend to your concerns or suggestions. Call us at 410 535 2452, on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday from 10:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m.

As March 25 was Maryland Day .... did you know Maryland was named in her honor of Queen Henrietta Maria, by her husband, Charles I. George Calvert, 1st Baron Baltimore. He submitted a draft charter for the colony with the name left blank, suggesting that Charles bestow a name in his own honor. Charles, having already honored himself and several family members in other colonial names, decided to honor his wife Henrietta Maria. The specific name given in the charter was "Terra Mariae, anglicize, Maryland".

Charles I & Henrietta Maria, by Sir Anthony van Dyke

Henrietta Maria was the youngest daughter of Henry IV of France (Henry III of Navarre) and his second wife, Marie de' Medici. She was born at the Palais du Louvre, and was brought up as a Catholic. As daughter of a Bourbon king of France, she was a Fille de France and of the House of Bourbon. Henrietta Maria married Charles I, at Notre Dame in Paris by proxy on May 1, 1625. Charles and Henrietta Maria spent their first night together at St. Augustine's, Canterbury, Kent, on June 13, 1625. When Charles was crowned King in Westminster on February 2, 1626, Henrietta Maria's Catholic religion made it impossible for her to be crowned in an Anglican service.
